

MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL

The visit of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the greatest of English-speaking actresses, to Albuquerque is the most notable event of the local dramatic season. Her appearance at the Elks theater is without question important theatrically and socially. For Mrs. Campbell is not only one of the great actresses of the world, ranking with Bernhardt and Duse, but she is quite a figure socially in London also. The work of no player of the present day has been more seriously or wider discussed than hers. Her engaging personality, her marvelous, though strange, beauty, her extreme naturalness and dignified repose compels the deepest interest and unfailing attention in her every movement; in fact, it is quite impossible not to be interested in her. A peculiar fascination rivets all eyes to her from the first instant of her appearance upon the scene and until she again disappears. For her appearance in Albuquerque Saturday, March 14, she will present "The Notorious Mrs. Elphinstone." This is one of the four greatest successes in her career, to which she is limiting her present American tour. Each role is a recognized masterpiece.

WORK ON NEW
SAN JOSE SCHOOL

Bonds Sold to W. E. Sweet of Denver—Structure Will Cost $3,500.

Work was begun today on the new school house in San Jose. The structure will be one story, constructed of cement blocks, and will cost $3,500. Bonds to cover the amount were sold to W. E. Sweet of Denver.

Superintendent Stevens stated today that the work would be pushed as much as possible. M. P. Sawtelle has the contract.

The school at Grigeros will close for the term tomorrow afternoon. Two other country schools have already closed for the term, but a large percentage of the others will continue for another month.

I want you to know how much Chamberlain's Salve has done for me. It has cured my face of a skin disease of almost twenty years' standing. I have been treated by several smart physicians as we have in this country and they did me no good, but two boxes of this salve has cured me.

—Mrs. Fannie Griffin, Troy, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by all druggists.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

Department of the Interior, Land Office at Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 26, 1908.

Notice is hereby given that Bias Gomez of Grant, N. M., has filed notice of his intention to make final five-year proof in support of his claim, viz: Homestead Entry No. 7077, made April 29, 1902, for the lots 2, 3, and 4, SW. 1/4 NE. 1/4 Section 6, Township 11 N., Range 3 W., and that said proof will be made before Geo. H. Pratt, U. S. Court Commissioner at Laguna, N. M., on April 13, 1908.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, the land, viz: Lucario Candelaria, of Laguna, N. M.; George R. Pratt, of Laguna, N. M.; Marcelino Abren, of San Mateo, N. M.; Juan de Jesus Velazquez, of Grant, N. M.

PROPOSALS FOR BUILDINGS

Department of the Interior, Office of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., Feb. 1, 1908. Sealed proposals plainly marked on the outside of the envelope "Proposals for Buildings, Leupp School, Navajo Extension, Arizona," and addressed to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., will be received at the Indian Office until 2 o'clock p. m. of March 17, 1908, for constructing a hospital and making additions to other buildings at the Leupp School, Navajo Extension, Arizona, in strict accordance with the plans and specifications which may be examined at this office, the offices of "The Citizen," Albuquerque, New Mexico, the "New Mexican," Santa Fe, New Mexico, and at the school. For further information apply to Joseph E. Maxwell, Additional Farmer in Charge, Leupp, Arizona, via Canon Diablo. C. F. LAUBACH, Acting Commissioner.

Good for Everybody

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect in the Delbert building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It cures stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled, and at all dealers.

EASILY PREVENT DECAY IN WOOD

The Extensive Use of Timber Makes Prevention Necessary—Different Methods.

It is estimated that a fence post, which under ordinary circumstances will last for perhaps two years, will, if given preservative treatment costing about ten cents, last eighteen years. The service of other timbers, such as railroad ties, telephone poles, and mine props, can be doubled and often trebled by inexpensive preservative treatment. Today, when the cost of wood is a big item to every farmer, every stockman, every railroad manager—to everyone, in fact, who must use timber where it is likely to decay—this is a fact which should be carefully considered.

It is that in fact, if the length of time timbers can be used is doubled, only half as much timber will be required as before and only one-half as much money will need to be spent in the purchase of timber. Moreover, many woods which were for a long time considered almost worthless can be treated and made to last as long as the scarcer and more expensive kinds.

Of the actual saving in dollars and cents through preservative treatment, a fence post was mentioned at the beginning might serve as one example. The post is of loblolly pine, and costs, untreated, about eight cents, or, including the cost of setting, fourteen cents. It lasts about two years. Compounding interest at 5 per cent, the annual charge of such a post is 7.53 cents; that is, it costs 7.53 cents a year to keep the post in service. Preservative treatment costing ten cents will increase its length of life to about eighteen years. In this case the total cost of the post, set, is 24 cents, which compounded at 5 per cent, gives an annual charge of 2.04 cents. Thus the saving due to treatment is 54.9 cents a year. Assuming that there are 200 posts per mile, there is a saving each year for every mile of fence of a sum equivalent to the interest on $219.60.

In the same way preservative treatment will increase the length of life of a loblolly pine railroad tie from five years to twelve years and will reduce the annual charge from 11.52 cents to 9.48 cents, which amounts to a saving of $8.75 per mile. There are 200 ties per mile, there is a saving each year for every mile of fence of a sum equivalent to the interest on $219.60.

It is estimated that 150,000 acres are required each year to grow timber for the anthracite coal mines alone. The average life of an untreated mine prop is not more than three years. By proper preservative treatment it can be prolonged by many times this figure. Telephone and telegraph poles, which in ten or twelve years, or even less, decay so badly at the ground line that they have to be removed, can, by a single treatment of their butts, be made to last twenty or twenty-five years. Sap shingles, which are almost valueless in their natural state, can easily be treated and made to outlast even painted shingles of the most decay-resistant woods. Thousands of dollars are lost every year by so-called "bluing" of freshly sawed sapwood lumber. This can be prevented by proper treatment, and at a cost so small as to put it within the reach of the smallest operator.

In the South the cheap and abundant loblolly pine, one of the easiest of all woods to treat, can be properly prepared by made to take the place of high grade longleaf pine for many purposes. Black and tupelo gums and other little-known woods have a new and increasing importance because of the possibility of preserving them from decay at small cost. In the Northeastern and Lake states are tamarack, hemlock, beech, birch and maple, and the red and black oaks, all of which by proper treatment may help to replace the fast-diminishing white oak and cedar.

In the states of the Mississippi Valley the pressing fencepost problem may be greatly relieved by treating such species as cottonwood, willow and hackberry.

Circular 119 of the Forest Service

"A Primer of Wood Preservation," tells in simple terms what decay is and how it can be retarded; describes briefly certain preservatives and processes; gives examples of the saving in dollars and cents, and tells what wood preservation can do in the future. The circular can be had free upon application to the Forester, Forest Service, Washington, D. C.

MACHINE GUNS MOW

DOWN CHILE STRIKERS

Soldiers Open Fire While Men Are Massed and Slaughtered Hundreds.

San Francisco, March 12.—Machine guns operated by Chilean government forces in a great conflict with strikers at the nitrate beds and in the town of Iquique laid low 2,500 men, most of them being killed, according to advices received yesterday by the steamer Christian Bors, which arrived direct from Chile.

Being ordered to disperse the strikers, the soldiers suddenly opened fire while the men were massed and an awful slaughter resulted. The remainder of the strikers returned to work after burying their dead comrades.

It is said that the mine owners will voluntarily raise the pay of many employees.

MANY CHICAGO SCHOOLS ARE FOUND UNSAFE

Board of Education Will See That Buildings Are Repaired at Once.

Chicago, March 12.—An inspection of 350 public and 200 private and parochial school buildings in Chicago was completed yesterday and out of this number about fifty were found to be unsafe. Some were found to lack fireproof construction, others to be without adequate exits, in some cases doors opening inward, and others lacking fire escapes.

The board of education has agreed to make any changes demanded by the building department, and the work of reconstruction of those buildings found to be lacking in safeguards will be begun at once. It may be necessary to dismiss school in some of the buildings for a short time while repairs are being made.
